

Nobody picks the day they become a caregiver.

It arrives as a fall, a diagnosis, or a discharge planner on the phone asking where your parent is going next — as if you’re supposed to already know. This toolkit is the map: built to be useful on your family’s worst day, not read cover to cover.

- 29 chapters color-coded by urgency — RED: Act Today · YELLOW: Watch Closely · BLUE: Plan Ahead — so you can route yourself to the right page in under a minute
- Word-for-word scripts for the moments language fails: “Is my parent admitted as an inpatient, or under observation?”
- Fillable worksheets and scored self-checks, plus a tear-out Numbers That Matter phone page for the refrigerator
- The trapdoors nobody warns you about — observation status, the “plateaued” denial you can appeal, and the hospice benefit families fear when they should be reaching for it

Rob Brizzi is a Certified Dementia Practitioner who has spent his career in home health, hospice, senior living, and healthcare — years of sitting with families as they faced these exact decisions. Medication content reviewed by Hope Brizzi, PharmD, project consultant.

You are not alone. You are the difference.

