

Getting It's Not Your Fault onto KDP

Step by step — you are the publisher (Cardinal Promise Press); KDP is your printer.

YOU = something only you can do (accounts, money, the physical proof). READY = a file that's already built and waiting in your bundle.

Part A · Register the title at Bowker

Do this FIRST · ~10 min · makes you the publisher

1. Go to `myidentifiers.com` and log in (username `brizzi78@icloud.com`). YOU
2. My Account → My Identifiers → open ISBN `979-8-9966446-0-5`.
3. Click Assign / Register title and fill in:
 - Title: It's Not Your Fault
 - Subtitle: Helping Caregivers with Aging Loved Ones
 - Contributors: Robert Brizzi (Author); Hope Brizzi (Contributor)
 - Publisher / Imprint: Cardinal Promise Press ← the key field
 - Format: Paperback · Pub date: your launch date
4. Save. Leave `-1-2` (ebook) and `-2-9` (audiobook) for later.

Part B · Create the paperback at KDP

kdp.amazon.com → Bookshelf → Create → Paperback

SCREEN 1 — PAPERBACK DETAILS

5. Language: English · Book Title: `It's Not Your Fault`
6. Subtitle: `Helping Caregivers with Aging Loved Ones`
7. Series: `Cardinal's Promise` (Volume 1)
8. Author: Rob Brizzi · Contributors: + Add → `Hope Brizzi` → role Contributor
9. Description: paste exactly (KDP accepts this HTML):

Nobody picks the day they become a caregiver. It arrives as a fall, a diagnosis, or a discharge planner asking where your parent is going next – as if you're supposed to already know. You're not. Almost no family is handed a map.

This is the map. Written by a Certified Dementia Practitioner with a career across home health, hospice, and senior living, It's Not Your Fault is built to be useful on your worst day – not read cover to cover. Its 29 chapters are color-coded by urgency – RED: Act Today · PURPLE: Watch Closely · BLUE: Plan Ahead – so you can find the right page in under a minute.

Inside, you'll learn how to:

- Get medical, legal, and financial essentials into one Important Documents Folder – before a crisis scatters them

- Ask the exact questions that protect Medicare coverage, including the observation-status trap that quietly voids rehab benefits

- Compare every care option – home health, assisted living, memory care, skilled nursing, palliative care, hospice – and how families actually pay for each

Use word-for-word scripts for the hardest conversations with doctors, discharge planners, and siblings
Recognize caregiver burnout before it breaks you – because a plan that protects your parent but breaks you is not a real plan

Every chapter follows the same anatomy: the plain truth, the myth families walk in believing, the teaching, and the tools – fillable worksheets, scored self-checks, and a “What to Do This Week” list you can actually finish.

You don’t have to be a superhero. The hero in this guide is the son or daughter who shows up, asks sharper questions, and knows when to call in help. This book makes sure you know what to ask.

Large 8.5" × 11" full-color workbook format – write in it, copy the worksheets, take them to appointments. With Hope Brizzi, PharmD, contributor and project consultant. Book one of the Cardinal’s Promise series.

10. Publishing Rights: “I own the copyright and hold publishing rights.”

11. Keywords — one per box:

elder care planning workbook for families sandwich generation help for adult children hospital discharge planning for seniors medicare medicaid long term care costs end of life decisions and comfort care dementia memory loss what to do next power of attorney advance directive checklist

12. Categories (choose 3):

- Parenting & Relationships › Aging Parents
- Health, Fitness & Dieting › Aging
- Medical Books › Medicine › Hospice Care

13. Answer the AI-content question honestly (KDP’s “AI-generated” vs. “AI-assisted” — AI refining your writing is assisted). → Save and Continue

SCREEN 2 — PAPERBACK CONTENT

14. ISBN: click “Use my own ISBN” → enter 979-8-9966446-0-5 → Imprint: Cardinal Promise Press .

Do NOT pick “Get a free KDP ISBN” — that erases your imprint and makes the publisher read “Independently published.” You own the block; use it.

15. Print options: Premium color on white paper · 8.5 × 11 in · No bleed · Matte cover.

16. Manuscript: Upload → kdp-interior.pdf READY (261 pages)

17. Book Cover: “Upload a cover you already have (PDF)” → kdp-cover-wrap-print.pdf READY

18. Run the online Previewer → confirm no red errors → Save and Continue.

SCREEN 3 — RIGHTS & PRICING

19. Territories: All (worldwide) · Primary marketplace: Amazon.com

20. Expanded Distribution: leave OFF if you’ll use IngramSpark for bookstores later.

21. Price: KDP shows your printing cost first — set list price above it (premium color runs high; expect roughly $19–29 to clear the 60% royalty). → Save as Draft (don’t publish yet).

Part C · Proof, then publish the one step that catches print surprises

22. Bookshelf → your book → ⋯ → Request Printed Proofs → order 2. YOU
23. When they arrive, check in hand: the navy text, the matte finish, spine alignment, and the gutter. Mark up one.
24. Fix anything → re-upload → when the proof is right, open the book → Publish.

Part D · After it's live

25. Ebook: Create → Kindle eBook → upload `its-not-your-fault.epub` READY, own ISBN `979-8-9966446-1-2`.
26. Copyright: register at `copyright.gov` as Cardinal Promise Press. YOU
27. Bookstores & libraries: IngramSpark, same ISBN — the cover needs their template (ask and it'll be rebuilt).
28. Website: add the buy link to thecardinalspromise.com.

Two real-world gates only you can clear: set the Cardinal Promise Press imprint at Bowker (Part A) before KDP, and order a printed proof before you publish. Everything in between is copy-paste from this sheet.
