

July 22 — Cheat Card · Brizzi v. Tesla, Inc.

Ask the Court for: $7,500 + IRS interest + court costs. One line: Tesla completed a $7,500 credit form, never filed it, and billed me.

BRING (3 copies each) + proof of service on Tesla's agent

A Completed Form 15400 (Tesla's own form, $7,500) · B IRS CP23 · C Order Agreement · D Emails to Tesla (Mar/May/Jun) · E Form 8936

SAY FIRST (slow, calm)

"Your Honor, in August 2025 I bought a Tesla Model Y and qualified for the $7,500 EV credit. Tesla completed its own IRS form — Exhibit A — putting my credit at $7,500. But Tesla never filed the matching report with the IRS. So the IRS denied it — Exhibit B — and billed me $7,500 plus interest. I qualified. I did everything right. I'm asking for $7,500 plus interest and costs."

IF THEY SAY → YOU SAY (short, then stop)

- "Arbitration." → "Your own contract preserves small claims." (Exhibit C)
- "You picked Head of Household / over income." → "My return governs, not an app. I filed jointly at $212,363 — under the limit. And even as Head of Household, $212,363 is under the $225,000 limit too."
- "It's the IRS's fault." → "The IRS denied it because Tesla never filed. Only Tesla can file it — I can't."
- "We never guaranteed the credit." → "I'm not suing over a promise — I qualified. I'm suing because Tesla didn't file."
- "Their app says..." → "It's Tesla's system, not a sworn document, and they won't produce it. My return says I qualify."
- Tesla doesn't show → "I request a default judgment, Your Honor."

MY NUMBERS

MAGI $212,363 · under $300,000 (MFJ) and under $225,000 (HoH) → qualifies any way.

MIC DROP (hand up Exhibit A)

"Everything Tesla disputes is answered by Tesla's own form. They put the number on it — $7,500. Then they didn't file it. I'm asking you to hold Tesla to its own form." — then stop talking.

4 RULES

1. Say "completed," never "signed." 2. No pain & suffering — money owed only. 3. Answer short, then stop. 4. Calm. "Your Honor." You're holding their form.
